Atomic Model Project 1. Now it is time to build a model of an atom. ASSIGNMENT You will be assigned an element. You will build a 3-D representation of one atom of that element, no "flat" models will be allowed. You must use materials other than paper (Styrofoam balls, wood, balloons, food, pipe cleaners). Separate colors must be used for each part of the atom. A. Take 7 of the circular items (say, plastic balls), 4 of one color (say, red) and 3 of another (for example, yellow). Use glue, or something thing and sharp, such as cocktail sticks, and press the 7 yellow and red balls as tightly together as possible until all are stuck to each other without any chance of one ball falling off.
